

Red Fox

CROSSING

Wisconsin's First Net Zero Community

HOMESITES STARTING AT $129,900

Red Fox Crossing is Wisconsin's first Net Zero Community - a community that has electrical generation from solar photovoltaic (PV) systems that will offset the projected electrical consumption of each individual home. When complete, the neighborhood will feature 34 homesites developed by Neumann Developments, Inc., Net Zero Ready homes built by Tim O'Brien Homes, and solar designed and installed by SunVest Solar, Inc.

The 34 homes in Red Fox Crossing will start in size from 1,900 square foot for a ranch and 2,200 square foot for a two-story, feature natural materials on the exterior, and all homesite have exposure. Each home will include a six to eight kW photovoltaic (PV) solar array and be certified by the following programs: U.S. Department of Energy Net Zero Ready Home, ENERGY STAR® V3 National Qualified Home, EPA WaterSense® and EPA Indoor Air Plus Qualified Home.

Red Fox Crossing is close to shopping, movies and restaurants; minutes from I-43 leading you into Milwaukee, and serviced by New Berlin School District.
